Mitchell Schear
Executive Partner
Camber Creek

Mitchell Schear is Executive Partner at Camber Creek, the longest standing real estate technology (proptech) focused venture capital firm. Together with his partners, he works to identify early-stage, industry-leading portfolio companies to cultivate, invest in and grow to deliver outsized returns to Camber Creek's investors.

With more than 35 years of leadership, technology, innovation, placemaking and development experience, Mr. Schear has led both private and public real estate companies where he developed and enhanced buildings and environments, envisioning and delivering the vibrant neighborhoods we celebrate today across the Washington, DC region. From 2003 until 2017, he was President of Vornado/Charles E. Smith where he directed the strategy, performance and growth of Vornado's extensive 20+ million-square-foot Washington, DC portfolio. In Arlington, VA, his forward-thinking, placemaking vision transformed Crystal City, now National Landing, into a vibrant, creative community that became home to a growing innovation hub and great restaurants/retail concepts.
