Peter Barnett leads PwC's US Internal Real Estate Strategy for a portfolio of more than six million square feet in six countries. With more than 20 years of experience in the global commercial and corporate real estate industry, he has served in a wide variety of roles from broker/consultant to landlord and corporate end user. Mr. Barnett brings extensive experience in real estate investment finance together with a deep knowledge of aligning corporate strategy with people and asset strategies. He serves as a trusted advisor to partners leading multiple lines of business, providing them a bridge between business strategy and workplace strategy. He is dedicated to enhancing the employee experience through the workplace, using technology and cutting edge design practices to achieve the optimal people strategies.

Prior to joining PwC in 2009, Peter Barnett served as Vice President of a Tampa-based commercial real estate firm, providing brokerage, property management and consulting services to owners and investors.

Mr. Barnett holds the CCIM designation for investment real estate, and is currently serving on the CCIM Board of Directors nationally. In addition he has served as a Senior Instructor of investment analysis and occupier/investor decisions courses since 2008. He has taught real estate courses in multiple countries across North America, Europe and Asia. He has also served as Chapter President/Chair for the CCIM Florida chapter and Corenet Global Tampa chapter. Peter Barnett earned his B.B.A. at Capella University in Minneapolis, and is a frequent speaker at industry events across the US.
