

EUROPEAN REAL ESTATE SUMMIT 2018

Sarah Christie
WeLive

Sarah Christie is heading up WeLive across Europe, Israel and Australia.

WeLive is the residential arm of WeWork, which provides living space and services with Community at the heart of it's offering.

Prior to joining WeLive, Sarah was Development Director at The Collective. The Collective is a London based Co Living developer and operator, which developed the world's largest Co Living scheme, The Collective Old Oak, which has 546 beds. As well as schemes in Stratford, Borough and most notably Canary Wharf, which includes 706 units in addition to a wealth of shared amenity spaces including: a roof top swimming pool, sauna, steam room, restaurant/bar, private dining rooms, a library, games room, gym and cinema rooms.

Sarah began her career developing Student Accommodation for 6 years at Bouygues Development, where her passion for shared living products began.

Sarah is spearheading the development of shared living schemes in London and across all major cities, working with Government bodies, major developers and investors and looks forward to a future where shared living products will play a part in tackling some of the world's largest issues.

www.dlapiperresummit.com/european