

EUROPEAN REAL ESTATE SUMMIT 2019

Ben Bannatyne
President, Europe
Prologis

Ben Bannatyne is president of Prologis Europe and chairman of the company's European Management Executive Committee. He is responsible for Europe's leading logistics real estate platform, which comprises 16.3 million square meters across 12 countries, as of 31 December 2018.

Previously, Ben served as the company's managing director and regional head for Central & Eastern Europe – a role which he held for more than seven years - with overall responsibility for the Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Slovakia.

Ben joined Prologis in 2008 from JLL where he was managing director for Central Europe. An accomplished leader, Ben brings significant real estate knowledge and expertise with more than 20 years' experience.

Ben graduated from the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, with a degree in land economy (BLE). He is also a UK trained chartered surveyor (MRICS).
