Andre Karihaloo
Co-Founding Partner
Digital Gravity Infrastructure Partners

Andre is Co-Founding Partner of Digital Gravity Infrastructure Partners. He has invested more than $1 billion into mid-market growth digital infrastructure, building platforms in sustainable data centres, subsea fibre cables and small cell wireless networks.

Together with his co-Founding Partner, Thor Johnsen, Andre developed and executed the team's innovative investment strategy to create a sustainable data centre platform in Europe centred on latency sensitivity, energy density and regional emissions reduction, building and growing a five-campus 200MW data centre operator across three countries.

Andre began his career at HSBC's global asset management business, working in London and New York. He has focused on digital infrastructure for the past 8 years and served on the boards of data centre operators Verne Global, Ficolo and Volta, amongst others in the fibre and wireless space.

Originally from Australia, Andre represented Denmark in the Under-20 Rugby World Cup and now volunteers as a junior rugby coach and referee in London. He holds an MSc in Finance and Economics from the London School of Economics.
