Trevor Silver is a non-executive Chairman of BCN overseeing, from a strategic sense, all of BCN's development projects.

He is, by training, a Civil Engineer and an icon in the European Property Development business, having been responsible for the development of more than 1.5 million sqm of commercial space across the UK and Europe.

A particular speciality is to develop environmentally appropriate schemes and, for example, Landid were awarded a European Union grant to develop the first office in the UK with a fully integrated photovoltaic façade.

Landid are currently raising a GBP 1 billion fund promoting ESG offices across Europe.
