

DLA PIPER ITALY REAL ESTATE SUMMIT

Paola Dezza

Editor

Il Sole 24 Ore

Paola Dezza has been at Il Sole24 Ore since 2004, dealing with the real estate market at 360°, from the residential market to the world of real estate professionals, from all news on Italian and foreign real estate companies to large projects. She also writes about lifestyle, tourism and luxury hotels.

Paola was born in Milan, but lived abroad for a long time: in the United States (Phoenix), Iran (Teheran) and France (Paris). She holds a degree in Economics and attended a marketing course, a master in technical analysis and the course "Real estate valuation and financing" at Sda Bocconi.

Before 2004 she dealt with finance (covering the bank and telecommunications industries) for Borsa e Finanza and for Bloomberg Investment, with personal finance for Panorama and for Il Corriere della Sera. For Radio Capital she was responsible for all news on the Italian Stock Exchange from 2001 until 2003. She is often guests in TV programs and moderators in industry conferences.
