

DLA PIPER ITALIAN REAL ESTATE SUMMIT

Paola Dezza

Editor

Il Sole 24 Ore

Having worked at Il Sole 24 Ore since 2004, Paola Dezza is Chief Editor of Monday edition and of Real Estate Sector at Group level. She joined the Finance editorial office two years ago, and she is the leading writer at the newspaper on real estate issues.

She writes about a wide range of real estate market issues; from the residential market to the world of real estate professionals, to news concerning Italian and foreign real estate companies and large projects.

Born in Milan, Paola has lived abroad for a long time: in the US (Arizona), in Iran (Tehran) and in France (Paris). She graduated in Economics and Commerce with an economic-political orientation, and she attended a marketing course, a master in technical analysis and the "Real estate valuation and financing" course at SDA Bocconi School of Management.

Before 2004 she worked in finance for the Stock Exchange and Finance and for Bloomberg Investimenti, in personal finance for Panorama and for Il Corriere della Sera. Between 2001 and 2003 she provided daily updates from the Italian Stock Exchange for Radio Capital.

She is fluent in English and French.

She also writes about lifestyle, luxury tourism and fashion.
